“Alligatory Bayou” Planting project continues

The 8th Grade students at Pierre Part Middle School went on a field trip to "Alligator Bayou" to plant trees. The project, which started last year, was funded through Sea Grant-Coastal Roots. Dr. Pam Blanchard of Louisiana’s Sea Grant College Program provided PPMS with hundreds of cypress and wax myrtle seeds and the containers to plant them. The students planted them and have been raising the trees since then.

The students knew what to expect at "Alligator Bayou." They come back cold, wet and dirty. However, they knew what they had done was worth it. They made an outstanding contribution to the environment.

(right) Trisha Pilant, Quentin Gautreaux, Dustin Cavalier, Amanda Landry

Cassie Hebert, Courtney Hebert, Kayla Hebert, Kayla Templet